

Our goal is a successful development of our Clients' business bringing management systems and IT infrastructure to a qualitatively higher level of manageability, efficiency, and consistency

RDTEX mission

Our mission is to provide high-quality services based on advanced IT technologies. We deliver them on a personalized basis, reliably and with strong attention to detail. We use the latest technologies. Our solutions for IT-services receive the highest level of support and management. Due to the highest work quality and consistency of all our actions, we provide our Customers and Partners with effective solutions that make modern IT technologies an asset for them and their activities.

To accomplish this mission, we:

- Provide our Customers with efficient and timely technical support of all our solutions and services.
 - Promote and facilitate an effective advanced technology integration through planning, implementation, tailoring to specific needs, training and counseling.
 - Develop, improve, customize and implement corporate data storage and analysis systems for our Customers; we provide them with a highly functional opportunity to use information resources for making responsible managerial and analytical decisions.
- Contribute to and promote the use of the latest IT achievements for our Customers.
 - Provide personalized administration and management for effective strategic and tactical planning in implementing and using informational technologies.

Qualifications of our consultants, business analysts, and developers are confirmed by professional certificates and the experience of successfully completed works. They are able to solve the most complex tasks for Customers and make their business successful.